

LOS ANGELES, Mar. 7, 2005 - ASIMO, Honda's advanced humanoid robot, walked the red carpet last weekend at the celebrity-filled world premiere of the computer-animated film "Robots." ASIMO spent 30 minutes demonstrating its capabilities for hundreds of photographers and entertainment industry media outlets, including "Access Hollywood" and "Extra." Several celebrities, including Amanda Bynes, Greg Kinnear, Drew Carey and Jennifer Coolidge, also posed for photographs with ASIMO. It's the first time a humanoid bipedal robot has ever independently walked a red carpet at a Hollywood premiere.